About PCEA

Professional Construction Estimators Association (PCEA) was established in 1956 in Charlotte, NC. PCEA has as its purpose the promotion of construction education for the betterment of the industry. Each Chapter individually coordinates, develops and establishes programs to enhance the educational endeavors in their community while pursuing the educational goals of membership. PCEA Chapters support programs ranging from, but not limited to, scholarships to local students, endowed scholarships at several Universities, providing educational instructors, purchasing equipment for use in technical training and introducing construction as a trade to “at risk” students.
